LIMITING INJUNCTIONS IN LABOR DISPUTES

Final Votes in Congress on Two Important Bills

RIVERS AND HARBORS BILL IN THE SENATE

HOUSE DEBATE STARTS ON 2ND DEFICIENCY BILL AND BOULDER DAM

LEADERS FORESEE POSSIBILITY OF INDEFINITE DELAY IN ADJOURNMENT

Washington, June 20.—(U.P.)—The $120,000,000 rivers and harbors bill which will connect the vast inland waterway system of the middle west with the Great Lakes and the Atlantic ocean, as well as provide improvements in virtually every section of the country, was passed by the senate today.

The bill already had passed the house and now goes to the conference between the two houses to adjust many differences.

The bill passed the senate without a record vote and without apparent opposition of any kind except from Senator Vandenberg, republican, Michigan, who warned it was authorizing projects far in excess of the previous rate of river and harbors improvement and included proposals which had not received the approval of army engineers.

Washington, June 20.—(U.P.)—Final votes on two important pieces of legislation were expected in congress today as the senate took up the rivers and harbors measure and the house debated the second deficiency bill, including an appropriation to begin work on Boulder Dam.

Leaders foresaw the possibility of an indefinite delay in adjourning as some senators insisted on remaining in session until President Hoover either signs or vetoes the pending world war veterans bill. They propose to re-pass it if the White House rejects it. If proponents of the rivers and harbors bill succeed in obtaining a vote on it today, the senate probably will turn next to the veterans' measure.

The senate agriculture committee was called today to continue investigating the alleged sale of impure drugs.

Congressional adjournment plans were unsettled today as the usual closing jam accumulated in the senate and house leaders held the whip hand.

Plans for quitting Saturday have been abandoned along with proposals for adjourning next Wednesday. No definite date will be set until the house groups are assured that the senate has passed all the legislation they desire. This may require a week or a month.

Secretary of State Stimson's latest appeal in behalf of the London treaty is being distributed over the country by mail today as a follow-up to Senator David A. Reed's radio speech broadcast last night.

Stimson's appeal was broadcast on June 12 and now is being mailed in pamphlet form by a corps of 25 state department employees to clubs and similar organizations whose support is considered desirable in the impending senate debate.

Reed spoke in reply to Senator Johnson, republican, California, and challenged Johnson's estimate of the treaty. The Pennsylvanian expressed confidence "common sense will prevail and the treaty will be ratified."

PROTEST ACTION OF HOUSE COMMITTEE ON R. R. MERGERS

Washington, June 20.—(U.P.)—House members from eight northwestern states met today to protest the action of the house interstate commerce committee on the Couzens resolution governing railroad mergers. The possibility of forcing the committee to reverse its action was considered at the meeting.

The resolution, as passed by the senate, would suspend until March 4, 1931, the Interstate Commerce commission's authority to approve railroad mergers. The house committee yesterday substituted an amendment a provision which would merely give the commission authority to prohibit railway consolidations through holding corporations.

Although no definite plans were made public after today's meeting, it was understood a filibuster against the substitute resolution had been considered. Rep. Knutson, republican, St. Cloud, Minn., unofficial chairman, indicated an attempt might be made to hold the house in session until either the Couzens measure or a similar resolution was presented for action.

WHEAT PRICES SINK IN MINNEAPOLIS PIT

Minneapolis, June 20.—(U.P.)—Wheat prices in the Minneapolis pit sunk to the lowest levels of the season today when July futures dropped to 93¢. Other crop months followed the July trend. The market buoyed slightly to close at 93¢.

MORROW REFERRED TO AS CANDIDATE FOR PRESIDENCY

Washington, June 20.—(U.P.)—Dwight W. Morrow, victor in the recent New Jersey senatorial primary, was referred to in the senate today as "the chief opponent" of President Hoover for the republican presidential nomination in 1932.

"From now on it will be a fight within the republican ranks for the nomination," Senator Pat Harrison, democrat, Mississippi, declared.

CHICAGO OPENS WARFARE ON ALL GANGLAND

POLICE OFFICERS BY HUNDREDS SENT TO FRONT LINES OF ATTACK

DRASTIC REORGANIZATION UNDER DIRECTION OF "IRON MAN" ALCOCK

Chicago, June 20.—(U.P.)—Police officers by the hundreds were mustered out of "unnecessary" jobs in the detective bureau, put in uniform and sent to the front lines today in Chicago's warfare against gangland.

As the drastic reorganization commands of John "Iron Man" Alcock, new commissioner of police, were carried out, the detective bureau staff was reduced from 900 to 200 men. The 700 policemen affected by the cut were ordered to patrol beats in various sections of the city.

In the offing was another huge shift in forces, and the transfer of 1,500 plain clothes officers to patrol duty was expected to take place within the next few days.

Alcock's maneuver in strengthening the ranks of the department's "beat pounders" was based on his belief that the only way of coping with crime and vice is to have uniformed policemen making the rounds.

The transfers, reassignments, demotions and promotions made by the commissioner constituted a police department "shakeup unprecedented in Chicago" and resulted from the broad-sides of criticism hurled against the police for their failure to solve the slaying of Alfred J. Lingle, Chicago Tribune reporter.

ALL DELIVERIES OF WHEAT TOUCH NEW BOTTOMS

Chicago, June 20.—(U.P.)—Falling more than 3 cents all deliveries of wheat touched new bottoms on the Board of Trade today.

A firm start on moderate buying orders was overcome and the market dropped steadily, less from pressure than lack of support. Heavy rains reported in western Canada had a slight effect.

At the low point July wheat sold for 93½¢, September 96½¢ and December 101½¢, levels not touched since before 1914.

Gov. Christianson to Make 3 Speeches Over Week End

St. Paul, Minn., June 20.—(U.P.)—Governor Theodore Christianson will make three speeches over the week end. He will talk at the American Legion third district convention at Gaylord tomorrow. Sunday afternoon he will speak at the 75th anniversary ceremony of the founding of the Vasa Lutheran church and in the evening he will talk at a community gathering at Canby.

FUNERAL RITES FOR C. J. ZAHRADKA

St. Paul, Minn., June 20.—(U.P.)—Funeral services were conducted today for Charles J. Zahradka, 41, northwest newspaperman and one-time reporter for the United Press. He died in Duluth Wednesday after a five days illness. At the time of his death Zahradka was head of the St. Thomas College Journalism department.

GERMAN REICHSBANK REDUCES DISCOUNT RATE FROM 4½ TO 4%

Berlin, June 20.—(U.P.)—The German Reichsbank reduced its discount rate from 4½ per cent to 4 per cent today. The new 4 per cent bank rate, which had been expected, will be effective Saturday. It will be the lowest discount rate in Germany since July 31, 1914.

The last reduction, which also was one-half per cent, was May 2.

BYRD HONORS MEMORY OF AN OLD FRIEND

PLACES WREATH ON TOMB OF FLOYD BENNETT AT ARLINGTON CEMETERY

REMEMBERS ALSO THE RESTING PLACES OF PEARY AND WILKES

Washington, June 20.—(U.P.)—In the midst of clamorous popular acclaim and the plaudits of officialdom, Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd has found time to honor the memory of a friend and trusted assistant on previous expeditions.

Arriving from New York with his party at 9 A. M., Byrd planned to visit Arlington cemetery late today to place a wreath on the tomb of Floyd Bennett who, but for a trick of fortune, would be standing beside his chief tonight when President Hoover hands him the National Geographic society's special gold medal.

Lying also in the cemetery are the bodies of Admirals Peary and Wilkes, the former the discoverer of the north pole and the latter an early explorer in Antarctica. For their graves, too, Byrd has wreaths.

One of the great sorrows of Byrd's life was the death of Floyd Bennett who was buried here one blustery wet day two years ago after an illness induced by his efforts to rescue the crew of the trans-Atlantic airplane, Bremen, which was stranded in the north. Thousands of persons are expected to crowd the enormous Washington auditorium when Byrd is awarded his medal tonight. The Byrd party is scheduled to leave for New York at midnight.

POSSES CONTINUE TO SEARCH FOR LOST MINISTER

REV. THOS. F. HOWARD, FORMER MINNESOTA CIRCUIT RIDER, LOST IN ARIZONA DESERT

DISAPPEARED ON JUNE 7 FROM HOME OF HIS SISTER IN TUCSON

Tucson, Ariz., June 20.—(U.P.)—Posses continued to search the desert lowlands and mountainous trails of this vicinity today for the Rev. Thomas F. Howard, 74, former Minnesota circuit rider, who disappeared on June 7 from the home in Tucson of his sister, Miss Florence Howard.

Airplanes operating over the district where the preacher is believed lost have been requested to keep a lookout. Expert Indian trackers and mining prospectors who are well acquainted with the country have joined in the search.

The missing minister's son, Colonel Earl Howard, a newspaper publisher of Wheaton, Minn., was ordered to return home today to undergo an operation for the removal of a bone from his left leg. The son, who has led the search for several days, received

GAME WARDENS SEARCH FOR SLAYER OF N. D. FAIRBANKS

WILDERNESS TRAILS OF STURGEON LAKE NORTH OF HIBBING ARE INSPECTED

NEW CLUES ARE UNCOVERED BY RESIDENTS OF THE TERRITORY

Hibbing, Minn., June 20.—(U.P.)—Seeking vengeance for their slain comrade, game wardens and deputy sheriffs today searched the wilderness trails of Sturgeon lake north of here in a hunt for the suspected slayers of Norman D. Fairbanks, Hibbing game warden.

Shoot to kill orders were given the posse by Sheriff Frank L. Magie of St. Louis county.

New clues to the suspected slayers were uncovered when residents of the Sturgeon lake territory reported thefts of provisions. Reports from settlers indicated that two men, whose description answered that of the suspected killers, were slowly making their way north, travelling little known trails and by night.

The trail of the two men was first uncovered nearly a week ago, by two deputies who lost the track when they were apparently only half a mile behind the men.

Fairbanks was shot late in April as he sought to question a pair of men about alleged game poaching activities. He was brought to Hibbing where he died in the hospital a week later as a result of his wounds and exposure.

No word was expected from the posse for several days. Sheriff Magie said, as they have entered a wilderness country in which there are no means of communication.

The men were provided with provisions for a week's journey through the woods and were given orders to follow down all cues.

The posse included eight St. Louis county deputies and four game wardens.

The injury at Wheaton when he was struck by a golf ball.

Col. Howard requested the use of Arizona national guard planes in the search. The request was sent to Gov. John C. Phillips of Arizona through Governor Theodore Christianson of Minnesota.

JOSEPH CLARKE IS TO BE GIVEN A PROMPT HEARING

TRACED BY A LETTER RECEIVED BY A QUEENS, LONG ISLAND MAN

A BROTHER OF ONE OF SLAIN MEN ALSO RECEIVES COMMUNICATION

Philadelphia, Pa., June 20.—(U.P.)—Joseph Clarke, 34-year-old escaped inmate of the Creedmore, N. Y., hospital for the insane, was arrested here today and after a brief hearing, ordered sent to New York as a suspect in the "maniac murders" of Queens, Long Island.

He was traced through a letter that had been received some days ago by F. M. Clarke, Queens Village, Long Island. At almost the time Clarke was taken into custody today John Moszynski, brother of Joseph Moszynski, the first man murdered by the Queens madman, received a special delivery letter at his home here, threatening him with death.

Police said the letter mailed Moszynski warned the recipient he was "the next on the list." It added that he was given until Saturday to turn over "valuable papers" and was directed to place them in the rest room in the Broad street station of the Pennsylvania railroad here or "death will follow."

Both the hand-writing and the tone of the letter tallied with those sent New York papers, police said.

Two New York detective-sergeants, Devlin and Wilson, co-operated with Philadelphia police in arresting Clarke.

"You won't take me back," he screamed repeatedly as the five detectives seized him. Clarke put up a desperate battle with the officers but was finally subdued and brought down to the detective bureau.

He refused to discuss the murders of Noel Sowlye and Joseph Moszynski. Clarke was taken to the office of District Attorney John Monaghan, where Assistant District Attorney Charles Kelley began to draw up extradition papers.

Clarke signified his willingness to waive extradition and he will be given an immediate hearing before Magistrate Daniel Oswald in central police station.

The letters signed by the suspect were incoherent and many celebrities were mentioned in them, including Earl Carroll, Helen Morgan, Mae Murray, Gilda Gray, Al Jolson, Ann Pennington, George Cohan, Fred Stone, Marion Davies, Buster Collier, Will Rogers, Greta Garbo, Bessie Love, Rudy Vallee, George Olsen, Ted Lewis and former heavyweight boxing champion, Jack Johnson.

Police say Clarke scribbled from the asylum on June 3, 1929, and has been in active correspondence with officials and inmates of the institution, police said. He has been successful in eluding pursuers, however. It was the tracing of one of his letters, sent to F. W. Clark, Queens Village, L. I., not far from the scene of the two murders, that enabled the sleuths to capture him.

Authorities said Clarke has lived here for the past five months.

16 PERSONS HURT AS DEMONSTRATORS CLASH WITH POLICE

Bombay, India, June 20.—(U.P.)—Sixteen persons were injured, two seriously, when police and a crowd of native demonstrators clashed today in front of the Whiteaway shop, an English store, which has been the scene of recent disturbances.

A procession of 4,000 students was charged by police with staves, and dispersed.

The parade of demonstrators, carrying flags, blocked the street in front of the shop. The police had difficulty in scattering them. Later the procession reformed and squatted in the road. Later they were permitted to proceed. Sixteen pickets were arrested.

CAROL TO BRING NEW EFFICIENCY TO ROUMANIA

COUNTRY TO BE CONDUCTED MORE ALONG AMERICAN LINES

KING GIVES FORMAL INTERVIEW TO THE UNITED PRESS

King Carol's aims to modernize Roumania and make it more efficient along American lines have been set forth by the monarch in an exclusive interview with the United Press correspondent, presented herewith. This is the first formal interview given by the king to the press since his return from exile, and the first time he has set forth his views on government in any detail.

By ALEXANDER HURTIG (United Press Staff Correspondent) (Copyright in All Countries, 1930, by United Press)

Bucharest, Roumania, June 20.—King Carol II of Roumania, a believer in constructive democracy as practiced in the United States, intends to introduce something of American efficiency methods into this country in the interests of its development, he revealed in an interview with the United Press.

King Carol, for the first time since he gave up his love affairs abroad and returned to the throne which he had forsworn, expressed his views in an exclusive discussion with the correspondent in his study yesterday.

The king, a few months ago a care-free young man in Paris, already shows the strain of the duties he has assumed. This was the sixth time I have seen him since he returned, and it was noticeable that he had lost the beaming jovial facial expression so widely commented on the historic day of his appearance before the national assembly, when he was proclaimed king.

Carol's plastic smile—reminiscent of his father, King Ferdinand—which lighted up his face on his first free Sunday, when he made an excursion into the country with Prince Michael, also had vanished. The man I saw was a king at work. His brow was wrinkled and his expression serious, but his eyes glistened and exuded energy.

Referring to the king's appearance before the assembly, when he was proclaimed, the interviewer asked: "You stated you intend to be a constitutional monarch. How is that to be understood?"

"When I swore the oath of allegiance before the national assembly," King Carol replied, "I said I would respect the constitution and the laws of the country. I intend to rule the nation absolutely constitutionally."

"I believe in democracy in the highest sense of the word. I am convinced that constructive democracy—administered practically as in the United States—helps to develop the dynamic forces of the nation."

"I want to modernize the country's whole administrative system. I want to try to introduce new methods and a progressive spirit in accordance with the traditions of the Roumanian people. I am an enemy of bureaucratic methods and an admirer of the United States' system of work. I hope many American methods can be successfully and usefully applied to Roumania."

Asked whether he would summon new forces to power, the king replied incisively, obviously desiring to pronounce a credo:

"I shall seek the collaboration of my generation."

"Will your majesty be what the Americans call an efficiency expert?" he was asked.

Carol smiled, for the fifth time during the interview.

"That's it," he replied. "I want to be an efficiency man. I hope to realize my ambition because I have always been profoundly impressed with the United States' efficiency. Moreover, I hope again to be able to visit the

ISSUE RAISED IN THE SENATE IN COMMITTEE REPORT

MAJORITY AND MINORITY CONCLUSIONS HAVE BEEN REACHED

BILL WOULD OUTLAW "YELLOW DOG" LABOR CONTRACTS

By NATHAN ROBERTSON

Washington, June 20.—An issue which promises to play a prominent part in the forthcoming elections was raised in the senate today when its judiciary committee submitted opposing reports on the bill to limit the use of injunctions in labor disputes.

The bill involves what some senators call the issue between "human and property rights" which figured so prominently during the recent debates over President Hoover's nominations of Charles Evans Hughes and John J. Parker to the supreme court.

Two reports were submitted by the committee. One was a majority report opposing the bill and the other a minority report, signed by seven of the committee's 17 members, vigorously advocating it.

The bill would limit the issuance by federal courts of injunctions in labor disputes except when the disputes involved violence, and all other means of lawful restraint had been exhausted.

The bill also would outlaw "yellow dog" labor contracts and declare the public policy as favoring collective bargaining by employees.

Chairman Norris, of the judiciary committee, submitted the minority report. It declared "Public sentiment has reached the conclusion that some such limitation on injunctions is necessary."

The majority report, submitted by Senator Steiwer, republican, Oregon, said substantial progress has been made in relations between employers and employees within the past 10 years and that therefore "so far as abuse of injunction is concerned there is less compelling reason for the enactment of federal legislation than formerly existed."

Pointing to the modern trend of big business toward monopolies and mergers, the minority report said such power, unrestrained by organized labor, "would permit employers arbitrarily to fix the wages and conditions of labor under which millions of men and women would find their only opportunity to earn a living."

"Relief by injunction is an extraordinary and harsh remedy," it said. "It should not be resorted to except in cases where such action is imperative."

The minority report called on congress to outlaw "yellow dog" contracts because many injunctions have been based upon the assumption such contracts are valid and not contrary to public policy.

Many of the anti-injunction bill's provisions are "contrary to the well-organized principles of our constitution," the majority report contended.

It said further that no matter how "distasteful" the "yellow dog" contracts are, "the fact remains that the supreme court in three cases has held that there is no legislative power to prohibit or outlaw employment contracts providing against union membership."

The right to make such contracts is both a right of liberty and a right of property," the report said. "To provide by law that the courts shall not protect this right is unquestionably a deprivation of property without due process of law."

Both reports favored the Vandenberg bill to provide for transfer of judges in the trial of contempt cases growing out of editorial criticism of judicial action, which has been incorporated in the injunction measure.

RIOT AT NEW LONDON AFTER BOAT RACES

New London, June 20.—(U.P.)—About 1,000 persons, said by police to have been Harvard and Yale students here for the boat races, rioted at the Hotel Criswold, Eastern Point, today.

Five were arrested but four were released without their names being recorded after paying $180 to the hotel for damages.

An unidentified woman was severely burned when gas balloons, touched off by a cigarette, ignited her filmy evening dress.

James Beale, Harvard student, registered from the yacht Pettie, was locked up in Groton jail when he refused to pay $25 for breaking a plate glass window.

"This is a swell holiday but I won't pay," Beale told police as he entered a cell.

Police subdued the boisterous throng only after scores of windows had been broken.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 20.—(U.P.)—Joseph Clarke, 34-year-old escaped inmate of the Creedmore, N. Y., hospital for the insane, was arrested here today and after a brief hearing, ordered sent to New York as a suspect in the "maniac murders" of Queens, Long Island.

He was traced through a letter that had been received some days ago by F. M. Clarke, Queens Village, Long Island. At almost the time Clarke was taken into custody today John Moszynski, brother of Joseph Moszynski, the first man murdered by the Queens madman, received a special delivery letter at his home here, threatening him with death.

Police said the letter mailed Moszynski warned the recipient he was "the next on the list." It added that he was given until Saturday to turn over "valuable papers" and was directed to place them in the rest room in the Broad street station of the Pennsylvania railroad here or "death will follow."

Both the hand-writing and the tone of the letter tallied with those sent New York papers, police said.

Two New York detective-sergeants, Devlin and Wilson, co-operated with Philadelphia police in arresting Clarke. "You won't take me back," he screamed repeatedly as the five detectives seized him. Clarke put up a desperate battle with the officers but was finally subdued and brought down to the detective bureau.

He refused to discuss the murders of Noel Sowley and Joseph Moszynski. Clarke was taken to the office of District Attorney John Monaghan, where Assistant District Attorney Charles Kelley began to draw up extradition papers.

Clarke signified his willingness to waive extradition and he will be given an immediate hearing before Magistrate Daniel Oswald in central police station.

The letters signed by the suspect were incoherent and many celebrities were mentioned in them, including Earl Carroll, Helen Morgan, Mae Murray, Gilda Gray, Al Jolson, Ann Pennington, George Cohan, Fred Stone, Marion Davies, Buster Collier, Will Rogers, Greta Garbo, Bessie Love, Rudy Vallee, George Olsen, Ted Lewis and former heavyweight boxing champion, Jack Johnson.

Police say Clarke escaped from the asylum on June 3, 1929, and has been in active correspondence with officials and inmates of the institution, police said. He has been successful in eluding pursuers, however. It was the tracing of one of his letters, sent to F. W. Clark, Queens Village, L. I., not far from the scene of the two murders, that enabled the sleuths to capture him.

Authorities said Clarke has lived here for the past five months.

16 PERSONS HURT AS DEMONSTRATORS CLASH WITH POLICE

Bombay, India, June 20.—(U.P.)—Sixteen persons were injured, two seriously, when police and a crowd of native demonstrators clashed today in front of the Whiteaway shop, an English store, which has been the scene of recent disturbances.

A procession of 4,000 students was charged by police with stones, and dispersed.

The parade of demonstrators, carrying flags, blocked the street in front of the shop. The police had difficulty in scattering them.

Later the procession reformed and squatted in the road. Later they were permitted to proceed. Sixteen pickets were arrested.

CAROL TO BRING NEW EFFICIENCY TO ROUMANIA

COUNTRY TO BE CONDUCTED MORE ALONG AMERICAN LINES

KING GIVES FORMAL INTERVIEW TO THE UNITED PRESS

King Carol's aims to modernize Roumania and make it more efficient along American lines have been set forth by the monarch in an exclusive interview with the United Press correspondent, presented herewith. This is the first formal interview given by the king to the press since his return from exile, and the first time he has set forth his views on government in any detail.

By ALEXANDER HURTIG (United Press Staff Correspondent) (Copyright in all countries, 1930, by United Press)

Bucharest, Roumania, June 20.—King Carol II of Roumania, a believer in constructive democracy as practiced in the United States, intends to introduce something of American efficiency methods into this country in the interests of its development, he revealed in an interview with the United Press.

King Carol, for the first time since he gave up his love affairs abroad and returned to the throne which he had forsworn, expressed his views in an exclusive discussion with the correspondent in his study yesterday.

The king, a few months ago a care-free young man in Paris, already shows the strain of the duties, he has assumed. This was the sixth time I have seen him since he returned, and it was noticeable that he had lost the beaming jovial facial expression so widely commented on the historic day of his appearance before the national assembly, when he was proclaimed king.

Carol's plastic smile—reminiscent of his father, King Ferdinand— which lighted up his face on his first free Sunday, when he made an excursion into the country with Prince Michael, also had vanished. The man I saw was a king at work. His brow was wrinkled and his expression serious, but his eyes glistened and exuded energy.

Referring to the king's appearance before the assembly, when he was proclaimed, the interviewer asked: "You stated you intend to be a constitutional monarch. How is that to be understood?"

"When I swore the oath of allegiance before the national assembly," King Carol replied, "I said I would respect the constitution and the laws of the country. I intend to rule the nation absolutely constitutionally."

"I believe in democracy in the highest sense of the word. I am convinced that constructive democracy—administered practically as in the United States—helps to develop the dynamic forces of the nation."

"I want to modernize the country's whole administrative system. I want to try to introduce new methods and a progressive spirit in accordance with the traditions of the Roumanian people. I am an enemy of bureaucratic methods and an admirer of the United States' system of work. I hope many American methods can be successfully and usefully applied to Roumania."

Asked whether he would summon new forces to power, the king replied incisively, obviously desiring to pronounce a credo:

"I shall seek the collaboration of my generation."

"Will your majesty be what the Americans call an efficiency expert?" he was asked.

Carol smiled, for the fifth time during the interview.

"That's it," he replied. "I want to be an efficiency man. I hope to realize my ambition because I have always been profoundly impressed with the United States' efficiency. Moreover, I hope again to be able to visit the

BILL WOULD OUTLAW "YELLOW DOG" LABOR CONTRACTS

By NATHAN ROBERTSON

Washington, June 20.—An issue which promises to play a prominent part in the forthcoming elections was raised in the senate today when its judiciary committee submitted opposing reports on the bill to limit the use of injunctions in labor disputes.

The bill involves what some senators call the issue between "human and property rights" which figured so prominently during the recent debates over President Hoover's nominations of Charles Evans Hughes and John J. Parker to the supreme court.

Two reports were submitted by the committee. One was a majority report opposing the bill and the other a minority report, signed by seven of the committee's 17 members, vigorously advocating it.

The bill would limit the issuance by federal courts of injunctions in labor disputes except when the disputes involved violence, and all other means of lawful restraint had been exhausted.

The bill also would outlaw "yellow dog" labor contracts and declare the public policy as favoring collective bargaining by employees.

The majority report, submitted by Senator Stetson, republican, Oregon, said substantial progress has been made in relations between employers and employees within the past 10 years and that therefore "so far as abuse of injunction is concerned there is less compelling reason for the enactment of federal legislation than formerly existed."

Pointing to the modern trend of big business toward monopolies and mergers, the minority report said such power, unrestrained by organized labor, "would permit employers arbitrarily to fix the wages and conditions of labor under which millions of men and women would find their only opportunity to earn a living."

"Relief by injunction is an extraordinary and harsh remedy," it said. "It should not be resorted to except in cases where such action is imperative."

The minority report called on congress to outlaw "yellow dog" contracts because many injunctions have been based upon the assumption such contracts are valid and not contrary to public policy.

Many of the anti-injunction bill's provisions are "contrary to the well-organized principles of our constitution," the majority report contended. It said further that no matter how "distasteful" the "yellow dog" contracts are, "the fact remains that the supreme court in three cases has held that there is no legislative power to prohibit or outlaw employment contracts providing against union membership."

The right to make such contracts is both a right of liberty and a right of property," the report said. "To provide by law that the courts shall not protect this right is unquestionably a deprivation of property without due process of law."

Both reports favored the Vandenberg bill to provide for transfer of judges in the trial of contempt cases growing out of editorial criticism of judicial action, which has been incorporated in the injunction measure.

RIOT AT NEW LONDON AFTER BOAT RACES

New London, June 20.—(U.P.)—About 1,000 persons, said by police to have been Harvard and Yale students here for the boat races, rioted at the Hotel Criswold, Eastern Point, today.

Five were arrested but four were released without their names being recorded after paying $180 to the hotel for damages.

An unidentified woman was severely burned when gas balloons, touched off by a cigarette, ignited her filmy evening dress.

James Beale, Harvard student, registered from the yacht Pettie, was locked up in Groton jail when he refused to pay $25 for breaking a plate glass window.

"This is a swell holiday but I won't pay," Beale told police as he entered a cell.

Police subdued the boisterous throng only after scores of windows had been broken.

United States, of which I cherish the fondest recollections."

Asked what education and training his son, Michael, would receive, Carol's smile again vanished. Talking earnestly and intensely, with a slight tremble in his voice, the king replied:

"The queen and I want to make a human being and a man of him. He will receive exactly the same education and training as all other children of his age."

EMERADO, N. D.,
FACED DESTRUCTION

EVERY MAN IN SMALL TOWN MANNED FIRE LINES AND PASSED BUCKETS

Emerado, N. D. June 20.—(UP)—Every person in Emerado manned fire lines and passed buckets last night in a six-hour fight after flames broke out and totally destroyed a gasoline warehouse.

The fire was finally brought under control after the town's 100 residents successfully confined the flames to the warehouse. The loss was estimated at $30,000.

At one time two large grain elevators on either side of the oil storehouse were threatened. The Grand Forks fire department was called out to aid the volunteer fire fighters.

Cause of the conflagration was unknown today though it was thought that a small motor had ignited the heavy gasoline fumes in the pump house adjoining the warehouse.

Ft. Ripley and Nisswa Men in Little Falls Hospital After Crash Near Belle Prairie

Two men were on operating tables at the St. Gabriel hospital, Little Falls, hovering between life and death this afternoon as the result of a car and truck head-on crash north of Belle Prairie on Highway No. 27 at 2 P. M. Sam Tedford of Ft. Ripley and M. G. Swanson of Nisswa are the injured. Each was a lone occupant in the vehicle in which he was travelling.

Motorists witnessing the accident said that Tedford, travelling north in a car, tried to pass another and crashed head-on into the Swanson truck. Tedford's injuries were said to be a fractured leg, fractured arm and a fractured skull. The left side of Swanson's face was crushed.

DENIES HE PROMISED TO INTERCEDE FOR OTTO SANHUBER

Los Angeles, June 20.—(UP)—District Attorney Buron Fitts, testifying today in the trial of Otto Sanhuber, accused of the eight-year-old murder of Fred Oesterreich, vehemently denied that he had promised to intercede for Sanhuber and "save his neck."

The charge that Fitts had promised to permit Sanhuber to plead guilty to a second degree murder charge and so save Sanhuber from the gallows was made yesterday by Sanhuber when he testified in his own defense.

EMERADO, N. D., FACED DESTRUCTION

EVERY MAN IN SMALL TOWN MANNED FIRE LINES AND PASSED BUCKETS

Emerado, N. D. June 20.—(UP)—Every person in Emerado manned fire lines and passed buckets last night in a six-hour fight after flames broke out and totally destroyed a gasoline warehouse.

The fire was finally brought under control after the town's 100 residents successfully confined the flames to the warehouse. The loss was estimated at $30,000.

At one time two large grain elevators on either side of the oil storehouse were threatened. The Grand Forks fire department was called out to aid the volunteer fire fighters.

Cause of the conflagration was unknown today though it was thought that a small motor had ignited the heavy gasoline fumes in the pump house adjoining the warehouse.

STRIKE OUT FUND TO AID WICKERSHAM LAW COMMISSION

Washington, June 20.—(UP)—An appropriation of $250,000 to cover the expenses of the Wickersham law enforcement commission for the 1931 fiscal year was stricken from the second deficiency bill on a point of order in the house today.

Representative La Guardia, republican, New York, raised the point that the appropriation was not authorized by law and was sustained by Representative Chindblom, republican, Illinois, who was in the chair.

PEONY SHOW SET FOR JUNE 26, 27

Crow Wing County Garden Flower
Society Takes Action
at Meeting

EXPECT MANY DISPLAYS

Early Varieties Are Now in Bloom.
Mid-Season Flowers to
Bloom Soon

At a meeting of the Crow Wing County Garden Flower society held last evening at the Chamber of Commerce, it was decided to hold the annual Peony show Thursday and Friday of next week, June 26 and 27.

It is urged that anyone having peonies will make one or more entries and make the show as fine a display as possible.

The early varieties are now in bloom and the mid-season ones will show their blooms the first of next week. It is hoped that the date will be about right for the late varieties. It is a simple procedure to hold the early and mid-season ones for the show and the committee is very anxious that people do this. The procedure is as follows:

Just as the buds are beginning to soften, a one-half pound paper bag is placed over the bud and bag folded a little at its free end and pinned. Then as soon as the bloom begins to burst, that is when the bag fills and feels as if it was full of pop-corn; the stem is cut. The bag being left on, the bloom is placed in cold storage or in an ice box, the bottom of the stem in a small amount of water. Though an ice box will hold the blooms for few days, cold storage is better, and the Garden Flower society has arranged with Nash-Finch to hold the blooms in their cold storage boxes. Persons wishing to hold their blooms for the show follow the above procedure and bring their blooms to Nash-Finch in a milk bottle. The name of the grower should be tied on the stem of each flower.

It is hoped that all growers of peonies will co-operate and hold their early blooms for this show.

RETAIL PRICES ARE ADJUSTED TO NEW LOWER LEVELS

New York, N. Y., June 20.—Material reductions in the base prices of a wide variety of articles have resulted in a general re-pricing of these items by our 1450 stores, with the new levels representing a substantial increase in the customer's buying power, according to a statement released here today by Earl C. Sams, president of J. C. Penney Company.

"Commodity prices, particularly in staple lines, have been declining for some time past," Mr. Sams states, and orders now being delivered to our stores are on a lower basis enabling us to pass on the consequent savings to our customers.

PEONY SHOW SET FOR JUNE 26, 27

Crow Wing County Garden Flower
Society Takes Action
at Meeting

EXPECT MANY DISPLAYS

Early Varieties Are Now in Bloom,
Mid-Season Flowers to
Bloom Soon

At a meeting of the Crow Wing County Garden Flower society held last evening at the Chamber of Commerce, it was decided to hold the annual Peony show Thursday and Friday of next week, June 26 and 27.

It is urged that anyone having peonies will make one or more entries and make the show as fine a display as possible.

The early varieties are now in bloom and the mid-season ones will show their blooms the first of next week. It is hoped that the date will be about right for the late varieties. It is a simple procedure to hold the early and mid-season ones for the show and the committee is very anxious that people do this. The procedure is as follows:

Just as the buds are beginning to soften, a one-half pound paper bag is placed over the bud and bag folded a little at its free end and pinned. Then as soon as the bloom begins to burst, that is when the bag fills and feels as if it was full of pop-corn; the stem is cut. The bag being left on, the bloom is placed in cold storage or in an ice box, the bottom of the stem in a small amount of water. Though an ice box will hold the blooms for few days, cold storage is better and the Garden Flower society has arranged with Nash-Finch to hold the blooms in their cold storage boxes. Persons wishing to hold their blooms for the show follow the above procedure and bring their blooms to Nash-Finch in a milk bottle. The name of the grower should be tied on the stem of each flower.

It is hoped that all growers of peonies will co-operate and hold their early blooms for this show.

RETAIL PRICES ARE ADJUSTED TO NEW LOWER LEVELS

New York, N. Y., June 20.—Material reductions in the base prices of a wide variety of articles have resulted in a general re-pricing of these items by our 1450 stores, with the new levels representing a substantial increase in the customer's buying power, according to a statement released here today by Earl C. Sams, president of J. C. Penney Company.

"Commodity prices, particularly in staple lines, have been declining for some time past," Mr. Sams states, and orders now being delivered to our stores are on a lower basis enabling us to pass on the consequent savings to our customers.

Minnesota State Highway Patrol

WRITING in the official magazine, Minnesota Municipalities, of the League of Municipalities, Earle Brown, Chief Patrol Officer, states that the aid and purpose of the Minnesota Highway Patrol is summed up in the four words, "Keep Traffic Moving Safely."

The emphasis is on the last word, "Safely" since prevention of accidents is the primary purpose of the Highway Patrol. Accidents might be prevented by stopping, delaying or otherwise hampering traffic on the highways, but the large number of motor vehicles, and their regular use in our every-day business and social life make this method impractical. Many of our highways are often badly congested, and anything which will add to the confusion and congestion would be costly to the car owner, cause general inconvenience, and instead of preventing accidents would cause more of them. The aim of the patrol is to help keep traffic moving in a safe, orderly manner.

The coming of the automobile created a new problem in law enforcement in the last quarter of a century. Counties and municipalities situated on through routes were faced with the task of policing traffic which neither originated nor terminated within their borders. They had neither the funds nor the experienced men needed for this work. Many of them did splendid work, but there was no uniformity. The local authorities were hampered by local boundaries as well as by the threat of loss of business. On the other hand motorists who had been harassed by constables who made arrests for technical but harmless violations of the traffic laws acquired prejudice against all traffic officers, and this created further obstacles for those who were trying to enforce the law fairly.

The need of a state highway patrol was recognized many years ago by the commissioner of highways, C. N. Babcock, who recommended the creation of such a unit shortly after the state trunk highway system had been created. It was not until 1929, however, that a bill creating such a unit passed both branches of the legislature and became a law. The law passed in 1929 limited the number of men to thirty-five, a much smaller number than recommended by Mr. Babcock, and it limited the powers of the patrol to the enforcement of "the provisions of the law relating to the use and operation of motor and other vehicles upon trunk highways, except as to speed of such vehicles."

The men will be armed and will be thoroughly trained in the use of weapons and other means of self-defense.

A secondary duty of the patrol will be the protection of the highway property. At various times serious damage has been done to highways by vehicles with excessive loads. The men will be prepared to enforce the maximum load limits fixed by the law the year around, as well as enforcing posted load restrictions when roads are in poor condition. They will also aim to prevent damage to bridges by violation of posted load limits. Damage is also done at times to highway signs and structures by vandals, and this should be reduced. The men will also enforce the motor vehicle license laws, and prevention of evasions of this law will help to pay the expense of maintaining the patrol.

Opening New Channels of Communication

THE Rosko airport will on Saturday be the landing place for a fleet of airplanes estimated of various size ranging from 20 planes up to as high estimates as 35 to 40. It depends largely on the weather being favorable for flights.

In this group will be planes from the Winnipeg Flying club, the St. Paul Aviation club, 109th Minnesota National Guard air squadron and the United States naval planes stationed in Minneapolis.

These are all notable visitors, attracted to Brainerd because we have the nearest airport to the Brainerd Lake Region and to Captain W. H. Fawcett's Breezy Point Lodge, to which the aviators will motor from Brainerd.

Cars donated by a committee of the Chamber of Commerce headed by Frank N. Russell will take the aviators to Breezy Point. The St. Paul fliers are ordered to arrive at the Rosko airport at 10 a. m. tomorrow.

Such a friendly visit of Canadian and American fliers is worthy some notice in Brainerd and it will be a kindly and proper gesture if flags are displayed in the city.

Brainerd for many years has desired to gain the friendship of Canadians, especially the Winnipeg people, to spend their summers in the lake region here. A number have visited the Tourist Park in past years and given it a favorable mention. The visit of the fliers from Winnipeg will enable Brainerd people to make contacts to induce the Canadians to continue visiting the lake country.

Having a large body of fliers visit Brainerd will enable them to familiarize themselves with flying conditions on the St. Paul to Brainerd and the Winnipeg to Brainerd routes. It will stimulate air travel between these points. Eventually it may lead to established passenger and mail air routes.

Milk Best Single Food for Health

MILK, because it contains the vitamins and acids beneficial to health, is the best single food known, Dr. R. Adam Dutcher, head of the Pennsylvania State college department of agriculture biochemistry, told delegates to the National Dairy council, which closed its conference in Minneapolis today.

As reported in the Minneapolis Tribune, "milk proteins have been found to contain acids in kind and quantity not present in the inferior proteins," Dr. Dutcher declared. "Calcium and phosphorus are present in milk in particularly advantageous proportions and quantity."

"Almost simultaneously with the discovery of the acids was the revelation that milk also contained vitamin A. Further research showed that the food also contained vitamins B and D, and even variable amounts of vitamin C."

Because of the presence of these acids and vitamins, Dr. Dutcher pointed out, milk is about the best single food known. Therefore, he concluded, dairymen are boosting a product of which they may well be proud.

WARMER weather in store will prove beneficial to the crops.

Respiratory Note

The quantity of air a man takes in to his lungs at each respiration is called tidal air, and is normally about 300-550 cubic centimeters. Of this, about 150 cubic centimeters never goes farther than the respiration passages. The remainder becomes mixed with the air in the air cells (alveolar air), of which there is perhaps three liters in the lung.

Respiratory Note

The quantity of air a man takes into his lungs at each respiration is called tidal air, and is normally about 300-550 cubic centimeters. Of this, about 150 cubic centimeters never goes farther than the respiration passages. The remainder becomes mixed with the air in the air cells (alveolar air), of which there is perhaps three liters in the lung.

"SHEIK'S WIFE"

BY WINIFRED VAN DUZER

CHAPTER LIV.

HE began to keep to himself, doing odds and ends of things about the studio, and bewildered and resentful. Tomorrow he would go down to New York, see an editor chap he knew.

But when tomorrow came he would put it off until the next day. And so a week went by—two weeks.

And then, drawn by something he did not understand, Ken went back to Barton Wade. But Wade, he learned, was in Philadelphia; he would be there some time.

Ken, though he did not realize it, was dragging anchor. Through with drifting; what Eve's love could not do for him her indifference was accomplishing. Ken was developing stamina; he was growing up.

He came home all in a rush, threw garments into a bag. "Going down to Philadelphia, red-head. Will be gone a while—a week, maybe."

"Very well," Her voice was lifeless. The end! Ken going to Philadelphia? Oh, no. Atlantic City. Going to Lila.

He had been faithful before; thoughtful, full of flirtation. But faithful. Now he was going to Lila.

He kissed her good-bye, bending his sleek head down, looking at her with his eyes alight. The big kid—jaunty, handsome boy. Oh, the tragedy of this, telling him good-bye.

"Love him a little, sweet? Love old Ken a little?"

She drew her fingers along his face, looked her hands at the back of his neck, pressed her face to his. And a bell rang in her heart, slowly, slowly, tolling a knell. Yet her eyes were dry, hot and dry.

"I shall love you as long as I live. Always, always, Ken—"

"That's the girl. S'long, sweet heart—wish me luck—"

"Luck, darling, oh—"

He was gone—he was gone. She sat in his chair by the old pipe he had left on the table, the magazine he had turned down upon open pages. A little white statue with every sense frozen save only that she kept hearing a bell in some far off place tolling a knell.

Ken had gone. He had gone to Lila. Such an end to all that had been!

She did nothing the rest of the day. But next morning she went about methodically packing her trunk with little personal belongings—her clothes. She put them into the car.

At Stonywall she laid everything away, taking plenty of time. A leisurely business, this leaving your husband. Plenty of time—all the rest of your life for this . . .

She did not see Mary Stewart. Time enough for that also. Mary was busy with her children now—her Junior and baby Mary. She had married a man—not an artist—and now she had her home, her husband's love, a son and a daughter.

Eve drove back, put the car into the garage, locked up the house, and the key in the old place under the mat. The last time she would do this . . . the last time . . .

She stopped to see Nory sat on the big divan in the untidy library, saying little, looking at him.

"It wouldn't work. I tried—oh, I can't tell you how grateful I am for all you've done. The best friend—the dearest friend. You're splendid, Nory—wonderful—"

"The end isn't yet. Child—child—don't you know that hurt like yours doesn't last always? People couldn't live if it did. Life ahead of you—success and happiness. Believe this, little Eve."

"Oh, I do. Something to be gone through—a valley—and afterward sunny hills. Only the valley is dark."

"Eve—" He came and sat beside her, bending over with his elbows on his knees, spoke very low with sweetness like music running through his tone. "Eve, do you like me some?"

"Why of course, Nory."

"Because—" He sat up suddenly, put his hand over hers. "Because I love you, Eve."

"Why—why—" A strange thought, that it would be pleasant to have Nory love her. Dear Nory—whimsical and gay and fine. She felt warmed and comforted; freed of the crushing loneliness.

"I haven't mentioned this, Eve. But you say you've left Ken; I suppose you will want your complete freedom? Afterward—when it's all over—I'll take you out of here, child. Out of the cheapness, the sham. Make a real home for you. I'm going soon, Eve; leaving for good. I've a camp up in Maine; we would keep Stonywall, buy the Lakeview place back if you wished. . . I love you so! If you could love me—enough—"

She sat there tensely, sweet lips parted, head down. Pleasant to be loved by Nory! But she could not take this from him. His sincerity, his terrible capacity for heartbreak as well as joy—what had she to give in exchange? Nothing!

All that she had was Ken's. She could leave Ken, stop being his wife—but never could she stop loving him. Never could she stop loving Ken—not ever, to the very end of time.

Tears filled her eyes; she brushed them away, shook her head. "I'm so sorry, Nory. So sorry. I don't love you enough—not that way. Oh, Nory—"

"That," he said quietly, "is that. And nothing for you to be sorry about, my dear."

"But there is. I let things go on between us."

"Nonsense. I wanted things to go on. Don't worry, my dear—not about me. I don't feel a bit different about you than I did the day you came through the hedge like a little green dryad. It isn't anything you've done or could do; it's you. And you've nothing to do with that. If ever you should feel differently—"

"I won't, Nory."

"No," he said slowly, "I don't believe you will."

He was leaving within the week and she told him farewell. "Dear Nory—"

He pressed her hands, kissed them, but she reached up and touched his lips with hers. Her last glimpse of him was as he stood in the door, a smile in his eyes, hand upraised, a smile in his eyes.

She never stirred from Stonywall for the next three days. She meant to see Barton Wade, ask if she might try to do something, but could not bring herself to go out.

"Oh, well—adjustment—a little while for that. The valley—I'm not going to be a weeping willow. Others have been hurt and I can stand this."

But she was not so brave at night, lying with her face pressed into the wet pillow, crying herself to sleep.

Toward evening of the fourth day a car dashed along the road, stopped with a squeal of brakes. A clatter on the veranda—surely that was Ken's step?

Ken bursting in, towering over her, face wrung by hurt, anger, jealousy.

"Do you know the whole Lane is gossiping about you?" he cried.

She was cool, too astonished to be upset. "The Lane is always gossiping about somebody."

He went on in a thick, outraged voice. "They're saying that you're having an affair with Nory O'Rell! That you've left me—for Nory—"

"Have left you, Ken. But not for Nory. That part of it is not true."

He stared with his mouth open; she saw the hand that held his hat begin to shake.

"Do sit down, Ken. How did you find me?"

"Asked O'Rell where you were," he answered bitterly. "Heard the talk almost before I got off the train. . . What are you doing here?"

"I live here. It's my home."

"Your—your home! You—you say it's a lie about you—about you and Nory? But he's crazy about you! You say you don't care for him, Eve?"

"A great deal. But I don't love him."

Beneath the anger and jealousy she saw panic in his face. "But—but you're here, Eve. Why? Where do I come in?"

"I'm afraid you don't. Perhaps you'd better go back to Miss Allan, Ken. Back to Atlantic City and Miss Allan."

"Ah!" He began to pace up and down, running his fingers through his hair, pulling at his collar. "So that's it! Miss Allan! Eve—good lord—do you think I give a damn about Miss Allan? Oh, my golly! Haven't seen Miss Allan—don't want to see her! I went to Philadelphia after Wade—signed a new contract. He's down there buying a magazine, don't you understand? I'm going to do sketches for him—get my stuff in on time—he wrote it into the contract, the big stiff. Eve, for heaven's sake! That painted cat—well, I suppose I was interested in her in a way, but compared with you—oh, less than nothing. Less than nothing, Eve! Don't you love me at all?"

"Yes, Ken."

"But you're angry with me—hell's bells, how did I know you minded my fool carrying on? It's over, Eve—I swear it is—wouldn't have time for it anyhow the way Wade's got me tied up. I didn't know, sweetheart—I didn't dream I was doing anything—"

"You've done many things, my dear. So many that I just couldn't go on. I'm tired of being a sheik's wife! There—now you have it. Fired of the Fifi Devoes and the Puss Southwicks and the Lila Ailans—the long procession of them marching across our future."

Tired of seeing you waste your time in The Lane, getting snog and fat mentally, living on flattery, tinsel excitement. I want a home, Ken, not a fly-by-night and sleep-by-day existence. A husband I can reach when I need him. Not a—sheik!"

He came over to her, knelt at her side, put his face down on her lap. "I'm sorry, Eve." All small boy he was now, and her heart turned to water. "Don't you think we might try again, dear? If you don't love anyone else—not Nory—anyone. I couldn't bear that—if you loved someone else—"

She thought of Nory, how well he had understood. Make Ken jealous, bring him to his senses—they had done this. And she knew instinctively that the memory of what Ken had felt this afternoon when he believed she had gone away with Nory would be with him as long as they lived. He had tasted the sauce prepared for the gander and found it bitter; never again would she have to think of herself as a sheik's wife!

"You'll try again, Eve? Give old Ken a chance?"

"Yes. Away from The Lane. Any place. Oh, any place, Eve—"

She took him through the house then, showed it proudly. "Bought it with the 'Relations,' dear Ken. I want to live here. It's home."

"But—"

His pride! Eve thought of a plan as they watched the sunset from the veranda. "You might buy Stonywall, Mr. Prim and Particular. What's money between folks like us? Kenneth Wilmer of Stonywall—very dashing I call it. Rotogravures of artist's country seat. . . Well!"

The shadow that had settled upon him lifted all at once; he glanced about Stonywall with swelling pride. "Gosh! Say, it is a fine old place. Got a feeling we're going to be plenty happy here. . . Love me, girl dear! Same as always?"

"Just the same," she said.

STIRBLING LEADS AS FAVORITE TO DEFEAT VON PORAT

BOBBY JONES WINS HIS THIRD BRITISH MATCH PLAY

ODDS OF 6 TO 5
AGAINST SLUGGING
NORWEGIAN BOXER

TWO ENTER RING AT CHICAGO STADIUM BEFORE CROWD
OF 23,000 TONIGHT

GEORGIAN IS A VETERAN OF SOME 300 FIGHTS, MEETS
HARD PUNCHER

Chicago, June 20. — (U.P.) — W. L. Stribling will be a 6-5 favorite to defeat Otto Von Porat, the slugging Norwegian, when the two enter the ring before what Chicago stadium expects to be a capacity crowd of 23,000 tonight.

A veteran of some 300 fights, the Georgian is meeting perhaps the hardest puncher he ever has faced. Von Porat has achieved a reputation as a "knockout" hitter. And even though all his knockouts have been garnered over boxers below the first class, it must be admitted that he can floor any man he can hit.

The favoritism toward Stribling is based on that latter statement. W. L. always has fought with the idea in mind that "you can't be knocked out without being hit," and the fans think that his experience and craftiness will allow him to avoid Von Porat's "hay-making" punches.

Barring Stribling's claims of a hand injury both men are in good shape, with Von Porat the heavier by some 14 pounds. The Norwegian expects to weigh around 205 while Stribling will not be heavier than 190.

JOHNNY RISCO
WANTS MATCH WITH SCHMELING

Detroit, June 20. — (U.P.) — Johnny Risco, Cleveland boxer boy, today claimed ranking as America's leading heavyweight contender and served notice that he desired a return match with Champion Max Schmeling, the only man who ever knocked him out.

Risco reestablished himself as a contender last night with a decisive 10-round victory over Paulino Uzcudun, veteran Basque. Risco won 7 of the 10 rounds and held Uzcudun in two others.

The decision was received with prolonged cheering by the 10,000 fans who paid $23,000 to witness the fight.

SCORES AGGREGATE OF 291 IN THE HOYLAKES TOURNAMENT

LEO DIEGEL, AMERICAN P. G. A.
CHAMPION, CRACKED AT FINISH

JONES WON IN 1926 BY THE SAME
SCORE, IN 1927 AT ST. AN-
DREWS BY 285

By ARCH RODGERS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Hoylake, England, June 20. — Bobby Jones won his third British open golf championship today with an aggregate of 291.

Leo Diegel, American P. G. A. champion, who had a chance to overtake the Atlantic in the final round, cracked at the finish.

By this same total—291 — Bobby Jones won his first British open championship at Royal Lytham St. Anne's in 1926. He won in 1927 at St. Andrews with an aggregate of 285.

Jones is the first golfer to win both the British amateur and open championships in a single year since John Ball turned the trick back in 1890. The Atlantic also holds the national open championship of the United States.

Bobby won the present British championship with rounds of 70, 72, 74 and 75.

He equalled the course record on the opening day to tie for the lead with MacDonald Smith and Henry Cotton. The second day's play gave him a lead of one stroke over Fred Robson, his nearest competitor.

Big Archie Compston came from behind with a record breaking 68 in the third round to take the lead by a stroke but Compston, like the others, cracked this afternoon and Jones came on to win.

Diegel finished with a 75 for his final round, which left him two strokes behind Jones.

Compston needed an 82 for his last 18 holes, and scored a 297, six strokes back of Bobby.

Horton Smith was up with the leaders with 296, so that most of the glory and prizes of the British open championship once more went to Americans. Don Moe had 303, while F. C.

Stevens, Jr., scratched after playing 16 holes of his final round.

American golfers have won the British open nine out of the past ten times. Arthur Havers is the only British player to win since Jock Hutchinson started the successful invasion back in 1921.

Jones has won it three times, Walter Hagen four times and Jim Barnes once.

Barnes scored a 77 in his fourth round for a total of 297, placing him in a tie with Compston. Jim was out in 38 and back in 39.

NIGHT BASEBALL IN PEORIA 3 EYE LEAGUE TEAM

Peoria, Ill., June 19. — (U.P.) — Peoria's Three Eye league team will begin playing its baseball at night within three weeks. A lighting plant already has been ordered, it has been announced.

SENATORS HAVE AN EYE ON THE AMERICAN PENNANT

STEADY PLAY HAS KEPT THEM
WELL UP AT TOP SINCE
SEASON OPENED

THE TEAM ACQUIRES CROWDER, MANUSH AND ART
SHIRES

(By United Press)

Walter Johnson's Washington Senators were given little consideration as pennant contenders in pre-season prognostications, but their steady play has kept them well up at the top since the season opened and the acquisition of Alvin Crowder, Heinie Manush and Art Shires has made the team a dangerous contender.

The new players made their debut as Senators yesterday and were the heroes of a 3 to 1 victory over Chicago. Crowder held the Sox to four hits, no two of which came in the same inning, while Shires hit three singles in four times at bat, and Manush collected two hits in three trips.

Lefty Grove enabled the Philadelphia Athletics to hold their 1½-game lead over Washington and New York, pitching his team to a 4 to 2 triumph over the Cleveland Indians. Grove allowed 11 hits while Hudlin held the champions to eight but the Athletics' hits were bunched when hits meant runs. The defeat dropped the Indians to fourth place, three games behind the leaders.

New York's Yankees kept pace with their rivals, defeating the Detroit Tigers, 5 to 4. Babe Ruth's 22nd homer of the season gave the Yanks the winning run in the seventh and left Babe only three days behind his schedule in 1927, when he hit 60 homers.

Danny MacFayden turned in one of the season's finest pitching performances, holding the St. Louis Browns to three hits to give the Boston Red Sox a 4 to 1 victory.

Guy Bush, Chicago Cubs' 1929 pitching ace, gave promise of returning to form yesterday when he held the Boston Braves to 6 hits, winning his game 10 to 4.

Ray Kolp pitched Cincinnati to a six-hit, 5 to 0 shutout victory over Brooklyn, cutting the Robins' lead to 2½ games.

The Giants-Pirates and Phillies-Cardinals games were rained out.

PENNEYS TO MEET L. F. D-BALLERS

TEAMS CLASH HERE AT WATER
TOWER GROUNDS NEXT
SUNDAY AFTERNOON

The J. C. Penney Co. team, winner of ten straight games in the City D-Ball league will meet a team of Little Falls stars here next Sunday afternoon.

The game will be played at the Water Tower grounds. Many of the downriver players come from high school ranks.

PENNEY'S MEET BYES AT WATERTOWER FIELD

The J. C. Penney's undefeated ten will meet the John M. Byes team, holders of second place in the city in a league diamondball game at the Water Tower grounds this evening at 6:15 o'clock.

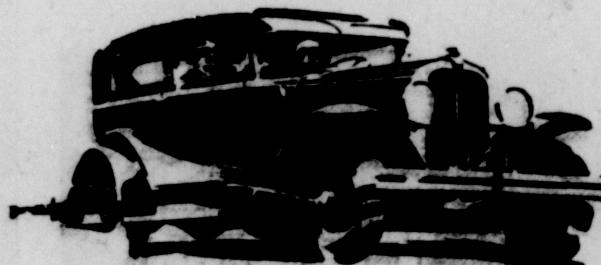

"Bullet Benny" Foster will twirl for the Penney's while "Lefty Speed" Erickson will handle mound duty for the Byes. Johnny Gabiou of the Penney squad who tore a ligament in his knee while playing Tuesday, and Hansen of the Byes who wrenched his knee playing baseball at Walker yesterday, will be unable to play.

RECORD BREAKING FLEET OF 23 CREWS AT POUGHKEEPSIE

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 19. — (U.P.) — The record breaking fleet of 23 crews which will compete in the intercollegiate rowing championship on the Hudson, June 27, was completed today with the addition of Washington and Wisconsin. The westerners arrived yesterday too late for practice and planned their first workouts today.

SCORES AGGREGATE OF 291 IN THE HOYLAKE TOURNEY

LEO DIEGEL, AMERICAN P. G. A.
CHAMPION, CRACKED AT
FINISH

JONES WON IN 1926 BY THE SAME
SCORE, IN 1927 AT ST. AN-
DREWS BY 285

By ARCH RODGERS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Hoylake, England, June 20. — Bobby Jones won his third British open golf championship today with an aggregate of 291.

Leo Diegel, American P. G. A. champion, who had a chance to overtake the Atlantic in the final round, cracked at the finish.

By this same total—291 — Bobby Jones won his first British open championship at Royal Litham St. Anne's in 1926. He won in 1927 at St. Andrews with an aggregate of 285.

Jones is the first golfer to win both the British amateur and open championships in a single year since John Ball turned the trick back in 1890. The Atlantic also holds the national open championship of the United States.

Bobby won the present British championship with rounds of 70, 72, 74 and 75.

He equalled the course record on the opening day to tie for the lead with MacDonald Smith and Henry Cotton. The second day's play gave him a lead of one stroke over Fred Robson, his nearest competitor.

Big Archie Compston came from behind with a record breaking 68 in the third round to take the lead by a stroke but Compston, like the others, cracked this afternoon and Jones came on to win.

Diegel finished with a 75 for his final round, which left him two strokes behind Jones.
Compston needed an 82 for his last 18 holes, and scored a 297, six strokes back of Bobby.
Horton Smith was up with the leaders with 296, so that most of the glory and prizes of the British open championship once more went to Americans. Don Moe had 303, while F. C.

Stevens, Jr., scratched after playing 16 holes of his final round.

American golfers have won the British open nine out of the past ten times. Arthur Havers is the only British player to win since Jock Hutchison started the successful invasion back in 1921.

Jones has won it three times, Walter Hagen four times and Jim Barnes once.

Barnes scored a 77 in his fourth round for a total of 297, placing him in a tie with Compston. Jim was out in 38 and back in 39.

NIGHT BASEBALL IN PEORIA 3 EYE LEAGUE TEAM

Peoria, Ill., June 19. — (U.P.) — Peoria's Three Eye league team will begin playing its baseball at night within three weeks. A lighting plant already has been ordered, it has been announced.

SENATORS HAVE AN EYE ON THE AMERICAN PENNANT

STEADY PLAY HAS KEPT THEM
WELL UP AT TOP SINCE
SEASON OPENED

THE TEAM ACQUIRES CROWDER, MANUSH AND ART
SHIRES

(By United Press)
Walter Johnson's Washington Senators were given little consideration as pennant contenders in pre-season prognostications, but their steady play has kept them well up at the top since the season opened and the acquisition of Alvin Crowder, Heinie Manush and Art Shires has made the team a dangerous contender.

The new players made their debut as Senators yesterday and were the heroes of a 3 to 1 victory over Chicago. Crowder held the Sox to four hits, no two of which came in the same inning, while Shires hit three singles in four times at bat, and Manush collected two hits in three trips.

Lefty Grove enabled the Philadelphia Athletics to hold their 1½-game lead over Washington and New York, pitching his team to a 4 to 2 triumph over the Cleveland Indians. Grove allowed 11 hits while Hudlin held the champions to eight but the Athletics' hits were bunched when hits meant runs. The defeat dropped the Indians to fourth place, three games behind the leaders.

New York's Yankees kept pace with their rivals, defeating the Detroit Tigers, 5 to 4. Babe Ruth's 22nd homer of the season gave the Yanks the winning run in the seventh and left Babe only three days behind his schedule in 1927, when he hit 60 homers.

Danny MacFayden turned in one of the season's finest pitching performances, holding the St. Louis Browns to three hits to give the Boston Red Sox a 4 to 1 victory.

Guy Bush, Chicago Cubs' 1929 pitching ace, gave promise of returning to form yesterday when he held the Boston Braves to 6 hits, winning his game 10 to 4.

Ray Kolp pitched Cincinnati to a six-hit, 5 to 0 shutout victory over Brooklyn, cutting the Robins' lead to 2½ games.

The Giants-Pirates and Phillies-Cardinals games were rained out.

American Association Tabs

Kansas City, Mo., June 20. — After dropping the first two games of the series, Kansas City came back yesterday and took the third by a 5 to 3 score. The Blues scored four runs in the seventh inning.

St. Paul, June 20. — Columbus scored eight runs in the first inning against St. Paul here yesterday but were unable to hold their advantage and dropped the last game of the series to the Saints, 10 to 9.

Minneapolis, June 20. — Minneapolis took the rubber game of the series from Toledo here yesterday, 7 to 4.

Milwaukee, June 20. — Scoring every run after two were out, Indianapolis defeated Milwaukee here yesterday, 5 to 3.

HARVARD'S UNBEATEN FRESHMAN CREW DEFEATED YALE

New London, Conn., June 20. — (U.P.) — Harvard's unbeaten Freshman crew triumphed over Yale in the opening two mile race of the historic regatta here today.

Leading from the outset, Harvard stroked its way to a good five lengths victory over a badly faltering Eli crew.

Harvard's unofficial time was 9 minutes and 58 seconds. Yale's unofficial time was 10 minutes and 13 seconds.

New London, Conn., June 20. — (U.P.) — Harvard swept the Thames this morning by winning the two opening races of the historic Yale-Harvard regatta. Harvard's victory in a junior varsity followed closely on the Crimson's smashing five length victory in the opening event. Both races were rowed two miles down stream from Breakwater to Fairview.

PENNEYS TO MEET L. F. D-BALLERS

TEAMS CLASH HERE AT WATER
TOWER GROUNDS NEXT
SUNDAY AFTERNOON

The J. C. Penney Co. team, winner of ten straight games in the City D-Ball league will meet a team of Little Falls stars here next Sunday afternoon.

The game will be played at the Water Tower grounds. Many of the downriver players come from high school ranks.

PENNE'S MEET BYES AT WATERTOWER FIELD

The J. C. Penney's undefeated ten will meet the John M. Byes team, holders of second place in the city in a league diamondball game at the Water Tower grounds this evening at 6:15 o'clock.

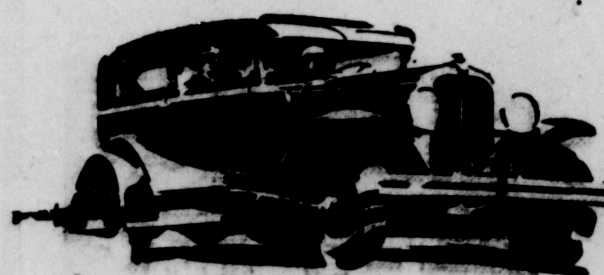

"Bullet Benny" Foster will twirl for the Penney's while "Lefty Speed" Ericsson will handle mound duty for the Byes. Johnny Gablou of the Penney squad who tore a ligament in his knee while playing Tuesday, and Hansen of the Byes who wrenched his knee playing baseball at Walker yesterday, will be unable to play.

RECORD BREAKING FLEET OF 23 CREWS AT POUGHKEEPSIE

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 19. — (U.P.) — The record breaking fleet of 23 crews which will compete in the intercollegiate rowing championship on the Hudson, June 27, was completed today with the addition of Washington and Wisconsin. The westerners arrived yesterday too late for practice and planned their first workouts today.

TIONS REPRESENTED

BIG BANDS, LITTLE ONES, MILI-TARY AND SYMPHONY BANDS
PARADE

St. Paul, Minn., June 20.—(U.P.)—Compulsions and in-a-r-a-broom-de-ays echoed through the streets of St. Paul this afternoon as 24 blaring bands opened their second annual state contest.

At every other street corner brass instrument organizations puffed away at "Stars and Stripes Forever" and the "Washington Post March."

Big bands and little bands were on parade. There were comedy bands, military outfits and bands with symphony training.

The actual competition will not get under way until tomorrow when the 24 groups compete for the honor of being named the best band in the state. Judges also will select the best marching band, the best drum major,
the most novel band and the best uniformed group.

Among the bands entered are organizations from Brainerd, St. Cloud, and Stillwater.

NO WONDER YOU FEEL SICK

When Constipation Gets Its Grip You Can't Keep Well.
What You Need Is Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

That tired feeling, that persistent headache, that bad breath are often
symptoms of constipation.

There is only one thing to do—
clean out your system. Do it now or you may be seriously sick. Your intestines are clogged because you have not eaten enough roughage.
And there is no better roughage
than that healthful, appetizing
cereal—Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.

ALL-BRAN is a natural food
that brings natural results regularly. Its fiber content sweeps the intestines clean of poisonous wastes. Much better than habit-forming pills which become useless
unless their dose is increased.

In addition, Kellogg's ALL-BRAN
is rich in iron. Scientific research has proved that practically all of this iron goes into the blood—bringing the glowing color of health to
the complexion and strengthening the entire body. A wonderful way
to enjoy keeping well!

You will like the nut-sweet flavor
Improved in

of ALL-BRAN. Ready-to-eat with milk or cream—fruits or honey.
By letting ALL-BRAN soak a few moments in milk or cream, its rich
flavor is brought out.

Use Kellogg's ALL-BRAN in
making muffins and hot breads.
Recipes on the package. Sprinkle it into soups, on salads. Mix it in scrambled eggs or meat loaf, add
it to every diet.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed. Just eat two tablespoonsfuls daily—recurrent cases, with every meal. Sold by all grocers.
Served in hotels, restaurants, on dining-cars. It is the original
ALL-BRAN in the red-and-green
package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

NO WONDER YOU FEEL SICK

When Constipation Gets Its Grip You Can't Keep Well.

What You Need Is Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

That tired feeling, that persistent
headache, that bad breath are often
symptoms of constipation.

There is only one thing to do—
clean out your system. Do it now or you may be seriously sick. Your intestines are clogged because you
have not eaten enough roughage.
And there is no better roughage
than that healthful, appetizing
cereal—Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.

ALL-BRAN is a natural food
that brings natural results regularly. Its fiber content sweeps the intestines clean of poisonous
wastes. Much better than habit-
forming pills which become useless
unless their dose is increased.

In addition, Kellogg's ALL-BRAN
is rich in iron. Scientific research
has proved that practically all of this iron goes into the blood—bringing the glowing color of health to
the complexion and strengthening
the entire body. A wonderful way
to enjoy keeping well!

You will like the nut-sweet flavor

Improved in Texture and Taste

of ALL-BRAN. Ready-to-eat with
milk or cream—fruits or honey.
By letting ALL-BRAN soak a few moments in milk or cream, its rich
flavor is brought out.

Use Kellogg's ALL-BRAN in
making muffins and hot breads.
Recipes on the package. Sprinkle
it into soups, on salads. Mix it in scrambled eggs or meat loaf, add
it to every diet.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed. Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily—recurrent cases, with
every meal. Sold by all grocers.
Served in hotels, restaurants, on dining-cars. It is the original
ALL-BRAN in the red-and-green
package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Business Sessions of District Association Open; Banquet at Pine Beach Tonight

"Surgery in a General Osteopathic Practice" Discussed by Dr. Walter K. Foley

Fifty osteopathic physicians came to Brainerd today to discuss phases of their profession, get opinions from experts and to enjoy the refreshing environs of this city.

After they have completed their business session at the Chamber of Commerce rooms this afternoon they will motor to the Brainerd-Pine Beach hotel at Gull Lake for a banquet and entertainment.

Discussion of topics, little known to the layman, occupied the attention of the members of the Minnesota State Osteopathic Association, this afternoon. The convention is virtually a state meet although it is declared a Northern District convention because two state meets are held in the year one in the southern part of the state and the other in the northern part. Members from all parts of the state attend both conventions and receive valuable knowledge in their profession by exchange of ideas and through lectures by specialists.

The two day convention has the following program:

Today
1 P. M.—Anabulant Proctology—Dr. E. J. Stokke, Austin.
Tonsillectomy (Ruddy Technique)—Dr. J. Earl Jones, Fairmont.

Ambulant Proctology—Dr. W. L. Shepherdson, Spring Valley.
Surgery in a General Osteopathic Practice—Dr. Walter K. Foley, Minneapolis.

6:30 P. M.—Banquet—Pine Beach Hotel.

Saturday, June 21
9:00 A. M.—Helpful Adjuncts to the Manipulative Care of the Feet—Dr. E. C. Goblirsch.
10:00 A. M.—Eye Refractions—Dr. L. V. Long, Detroit Lakes.
11:00 A. M.—Public Health—Dr. J. W. Hawkinson, Luverne.
12:00 noon—Luncheon—Ransford Hotel.

1:30 P. M.—Genito-Urinary—Dr. H. R. Berston, St. Paul.
2:30 P. M.—Osteopathic Round Table—Dr. J. L. Curtis, Fergus Falls. Officers of the state association are: President—Robt. H. Clark, Northfield.
Vice President—A. M. Hackleman, Minneapolis.
Secretary-Treasurer—C. J. Rounds, Owatonna.

Dr. E. C. Herzog and Dr. Milton Westberg were the members taking care of local arrangements.

School of Zion Evangelical Church Had Been in Session Two Weeks

The Bible school, which has been in session for the past two weeks at the Zion Evangelical church of Northeast Brainerd closed today with a picnic for all those who have taken part, at the Clausen home about six miles east of Brainerd.

The school has been held under the direction of Rev. Thomas, assisted by Miss Wilma Helgeson, Joel James, Mrs. M. E. Congdon and Sarah Wagner as teachers. The sessions have been well attended, with an enrollment of 85.

On Sunday evening a demonstration program on what the children have studied will be given at the church in connection with the Children's Day program.

REACH AGREEMENT IN CAMP OPERATION

Park Board to Have Control of Enlarged Tourist Camp Facilities

ENDORSED BY COUNCIL

Board to Receive 50 Cents From Every Car Entering Grounds of City or Mr. Wright

An arrangement whereby the Brainerd Park Board will have absolute control of the tourist camp and property of Carl Wright has been agreed upon by the board and Mr. Wright and sanctioned by the city council.

Endorsement of the plan which in main gives the Park Board permission to receive 50 cents from each car entering the tourist camp whether for camping or cottage lodging purposes was given by the council at a special meeting last evening.

The new plan is destined to increase the income of the tourist camp to the city and to provide better accommodations. Virtually it means the doubling of the size of the camp.

The Park Board will have power to rent the eight cottages proposed for construction by Mr. Wright this year, the rental to be given Mr. Wright.

According to the agreement tourists may camp on any part of land owned by city or Mr. Wright should they desire to do so, the camping rental of the entire land to go to the Park Board.

By this arrangement many tourists who desire cabin accommodations can be taken care of. It was estimated by members of the park board that approximately 4,000 tourist cars were turned away from the camp last year because of lack of cabins.

Mr. Wright has agreed not to operate any concessions on the land. He will derive his income from the cabins and the rental of bedding for the cabins. He will also furnish help to take care of his own cottages.

As yet no successor has been named to Mr. Wright on the park board, Mr. Wright having resigned before purchasing the land.

FUNERAL FOR YOUNG MATRON AT PILLAGER

Funeral rites were conducted today at Pillager for Mrs. Frances May Cloud, aged 17 years of Pillager who died at the St. Joseph's hospital here Thursday morning.

The young lady died from a hemorrhage resulting from an operation two weeks ago. She leaves her husband and an infant child.

Conduct Rites for Child

Funeral rites for Mildred Helen Campbell, nine months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Campbell, 520 Eighth avenue N. E. who passed away suddenly last Sunday, were held Tuesday afternoon, June 17, from the Whitney undertaking parlors.

Surviving besides her parents are her three sisters Irene, Marie and Ethel and one brother Elmer.

AT BRAINERD PINE BEACH HOTEL

Group of Townspeople Present at Opening of New Gull Lake Resort

DINNER PARTIES GIVEN

Minneapolis People Hold Golf Tournament Saturday and Sunday

On Sunday, June 15, the Brainerd-Pine Beach hotel was host to a number of townspeople for both the noon-day and evening dinner. The dining room of the hotel, which overlooks Gull Lake, was beautifully decorated with spring flowers. The splendid manner in which the service was maintained in both culinary and dining departments was due to the Misses Margaret Murray and Caroline Larson who head the staff.

The following were among those who entertained at small dinner parties: Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Schaefer, Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Erickson, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Forsberg, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Roth, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. O'Brien and Dr. and Mrs. G. I. Badeaux.

Out of town registrations were members of the Drake-Jones Investment Company of Minneapolis who held a small tournament on the golf course Saturday and Sunday. T. R. Drake was host. He left Sunday for Winnipeg, the other members of the party leaving for Minneapolis.

From Kansas City, Mo., Mr. and Mrs. Edmonston Marshall and Mr. and Mrs. W. Pilges are guests of the hotel for the ensuing ten days. Both Mr. Marshall and Mr. Pilges are affiliated with the Kansas City Board of Trade. Mr. and Mrs. Burdette Blue and sons John and Davis arrived from Bartlesville, Okla., on Tuesday to take up their residence at the hotel while making arrangements to open their cottage for the summer.

St. Paul arrivals at the hotel included Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Weyerhaeuser, Mrs. A. H. Lindeke and Mr. and Mrs. W. Driscoll who are to be house guests later at Alexandria where a fashionable wedding will take place.

HITCH HIKE WAY ACROSS CONTINENT

Young Raymond Nicholson Travels From Chicago to Seattle

The following, taken from a Seattle, Wash., paper regarding Raymond Nicholson, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Nicholson, former residents of Brainerd, will be of interest to their old friends.

When hitch hiking from Chicago to Seattle one witnesses many unusual experiences and learns a great deal about the geography of our country.

Raymond Nicholson, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Nicholson, of 528 Orcas street, who has spent the winter term at the Moody Bible Institute, made this trip in one month, arriving home May 24.

He journeyed in a round-about way, going into Mexico and Arizona, also stopping at Los Angeles to visit relatives. While in Arizona he investigated the Grand Canyon, which left him deeply impressed with its natural beauty, vast depth and length.

Mr. Nicholson intends to continue studying while in Seattle and has entered a Seattle business college, taking the clerical course.

TWO COUNTY BOYS WIN TRIPS TO FAIR

Every county in the state will have representation in the Farm Boys' Camp at the Minnesota State Fair and Northwest Livestock Show, August 20 to September 6. Two 4-H boys who have made outstanding records in club projects have been selected from each county.

The boys who have won trips from Crow Wing county are Hamilton Johnson of Pequot, and Harlow Peterson, Route 6, Brainerd, both of whom excelled in their dairy calf project work.

The selection was announced today by Geo. E. Hanscom, of St. Cloud, who represents the sixth congressional district on the State Fair board.

The boys will be guests of the fair management. Their transportation, meals and lodging, in fact all expenses, will be paid by the fair. The camp will be under the supervision of Lester Howard of Minneapolis, assistant state secretary of the Y. M. C. A.

A daily program is being worked out that will keep the boys occupied every minute of the day. Educational trips around the grounds to view the many wonderful exhibits and specially conducted sight-seeing tours of the Twin Cities, with visits to the milling district in Minneapolis, Come Park and the State Capitol in St. Paul, and the stock yards in South St. Paul, have been tentatively arranged. The high spot on the entertainment program will be the banquet to be given for all of the 4-H club workers by the Minneapolis Civic and Commerce Association on Thursday night, Sept. 4.

In addition to these features there will be a daily sports program featuring games of different kinds.

To assist the fair in reimbursing it for the cost of the camp, the boys will be assigned to some work each day, such as ushering in the grandstand and hippodrome. The membership will be divided into groups so that only a few of the boys will be on duty at one time.

Johnson and Peterson have been instructed to report at camp on Friday, August 29.

William Taylor Hanks, Millie Laes reservation Indian, charged with triple murder, took the stand for the third day to continue his story of the killings under the cross-examination
of defense and prosecution attorneys.

Immediately after Hanks' testimony is completed, probably late today, attorneys will sum up the case and it will be placed in the hands of the jury
of nine men and three women to determine whether Hanks will become the first victim of the death penalty
in the state since before 1910.

Hanks was the last defense witness to be called and today under cross-examination by U. S. district attorneys remained unshaken in his story of how his wife, his infant stepson and his wife's aged grandfather met their death.

Hanks admitted the killing of his wife in self-defense but denied that he killed the old man and child.

Duluth, Minn., June 20.—(UP)—The fate of William Hanks, Millie Laes reservation Indian who faces hanging
if he is convicted on a triple murder charge, will be put in the hands of a federal jury tomorrow, court attaches
said late today.

Rebuttal testimony occupied the court until adjournment today. The final charge to the jury was to be made tomorrow morning and the case
turned over for its consideration.

Hanks who testified in his own de-
claring under cross-examination that he had killed his wife in self-defense
but had no part in the killing of his wife's aged grandfather and his infant stepson.

Hanks is on trial under federal statutes which specify hanging as the extreme penalty for murder. The jury
may recommend leniency in which case the sentence would be life imprisonment.

Original Chautauqua

The first chautauqua assembly,
known as the Sunday School Assembly, was in session August 4-18, 1874,
as the result of a plan formed by
Lewis Miller of Akron, Ohio, and
Rev. John H. Vincent of New York.
The assembly plans widened rapidly in successive years. In 1879 a school for teachers in secular subjects was opened. Probably chautauqua is best known in connection with the plan of systematic home reading. The plan was proposed and explained in 1878.
The first year 7,000 persons were enrolled and from that time readers
varying in number from 8,000 to 25,
000 have joined the circle per season. There are now throughout the United States and Canada more than 550 local assemblies modeled after the original chautauqua institution.

Wear Hats Constantly

There are men in the back country
of Australia who haven't had their hats off for decades. They even sleep in them, and while sitting around the fire on a cool night they never even think of removing them. Boundary
riders coming in from the paddocks and wanting a wash before having a feed, usually proceed by tilting the hat back, bathing the cheeks and forehead, drying same with a towel,
and then replacing the hat. On rare ceremonial occasions, when hats have
to come off, the appearance of these denizens of the holdings is so strange
and grotesque that often bushmates,
who have long lived and worked together, hardly know each other.—Symdney Bulletin.

Bricks Without Straw

Mrs. Finnigan labored over her wash-tub while Mr. Finnigan sat in the garden and gazed into space. His inactivity finally became more than Mrs.
Finnigan could bear—at least, in silence.

"Why don't you come into the kitchen and help me with these clothes?"
she inquired.

Mr. Finnigan turned and directed
his gaze upon his wife.

"Why, Moya, can't you see I'm busy?" he drawled.

"Busy?" snapped Mrs. Finnigan.
"What doin'?"

"Why, I'm thinkin', Moya!"

"Thinkin'?" she repeated. "With what?"

Licorice Water Has Value

For generations nonalcoholic drinks
made from water infusions of licorice
root or paste have been popular throughout southern Europe. This sounds much like the anemic concoction
of our childhood days, "lickerish
water," which was carried around in a bottle and shaken at frequent intervals to make it froth. This mixture of licorice root, water and sugar, so beloved of children, really has medicinal value, for the virtue of licorice
as a tonic and blood purifier has been long recognized. In many factories of France, especially in the iron and steel mills, it is given to workers for drinking purposes instead of plain water.

STATE'S FIRST "HANGING TRIAL" NEARING CLOSE

WM. TAYLOR HANKS TAKES THE STAND FOR THIRD DAY AT DULUTH

CHARGED WITH TRIPLE SLAY-ING, FACES CROSS EXAM-INATION

Duluth, Minn., June 20.—(U.P.)—Minnesota's first "hanging" trial in two decades drew near a close today.

William Taylor Hanks, Mille Lacs reservation Indian, charged with triple murder, took the stand for the third day to continue his story of the killings under the cross-examination
of defense and prosecution attorneys.

Immediately after Hanks' testimony
is completed, probably late today, attorneys will sum up the case and it will be placed in the hands of the jury
of nine men and three women to determine whether Hanks will become
the first victim of the death penalty
in the state since before 1910.

Hanks was the last defense witness
to be called and today under cross-examination by U. S. district attorneys remained unshaken in his story of
how his wife, his infant stepson and
his wife's aged grandfather met their deaths.

Hanks admitted the killing of his wife in self-defense but denied that he
killed the old man and child.

Duluth, Minn., June 20.—(U.P.)—The fate of William Hanks, Mille Lacs reservation Indian who faces hanging
if he is convicted on a triple murder
charge, will be put in the hands of a federal jury tomorrow, court attaches
said late today.

Rebuttal testimony occupied the court until adjournment today. The final charge to the jury was to be
made tomorrow morning and the case
turned over for its consideration.

Hanks who testified in his own de-
claring under cross-examination that
he had killed his wife in self-defense
but had no part in the killing of his wife's aged grandfather and his infant stepson.

Hanks is on trial under federal statutes which specify hanging as the extreme penalty for murder. The jury
may recommend leniency in which case the sentence would be life imprisonment.

Original Chautauqua

The first chautauqua assembly,
known as the Sunday School Assembly, was in session August 4-18, 1874,
as the result of a plan formed by
Lewis Miller of Akron, Ohio, and
Rev. John H. Vincent of New York.
The assembly plans widened rapidly
in successive years. In 1879 a school
for teachers in secular subjects was opened. Probably chautauqua is best known in connection with the plan
of systematic home reading. The plan
was proposed and explained in 1878.
The first year 7,000 persons were enrolled and from that time readers
varying in number from 8,000 to 25,
000 have joined the circle per se-
son. There are now throughout the United States and Canada more than 550 local assemblies modeled after
the original chautauqua institution.

Wear Hats Constantly

There are men in the back country
of Australia who haven't had their hats off for decades. They even sleep
in them, and while sitting around the
fire on a cool night they never even think of removing them. Boundary
riders coming in from the paddocks and wanting a wash before having a feed, usually proceed by tilting the hat back, bathing the cheeks and
forehead, drying same with a towel,
and then replacing the hat. On rare
ceremonial occasions, when hats have
to come off, the appearance of these
denizens of the holdings is so strange
and grotesque that often bushmates,
who have long lived and worked together, hardly know each other.—Sydney Bulletin.

Bricks Without Straw

Mrs. Finnigan labored over her wash-
tub while Mr. Finnigan sat in the garden and gazed into space. His inactivity finally became more than Mrs.
Finnigan could bear—at least, in silence.

"Why don't you come into the kitchen and help me with these clothes?"
she inquired.

Mr. Finnigan turned and directed
his gaze upon his wife.

"Why, Moya, can't you see I'm
busy?" he drawled.

"Busy?" snapped Mrs. Finnigan.

"What doin'?"

"Why, I'm thinkin', Moya!"

"Thinkin'?" she repeated. "With
what?"

Licorice Water Has Value

For generations nonalcoholic drinks
made from water infusions of licorice
root or paste have been popular throughout southern Europe. This sounds much like the anemic concoction
of our childhood days, "lickerish
water," which was carried around in
a bottle and shaken at frequent intervals to make it froth. This mixture of licorice root, water and sugar, so
beloved of children, really has medicinal value, for the virtue of licorice
as a tonic and blood purifier has been long recognized. In many factories of France, especially in the iron and steel
mills, it is given to workers for drinking purposes instead of plain water.
